

Internet Privacy Policy

Vencore Labs, Inc. (formerly Applied Communication Sciences) understands that privacy is an important issue for users of, and visitors to, our internet site. The following information is designed to help visitors understand what information we collect from our site, and how we handle and use the information after that.

Information Collection and Use

Vencore Labs is the sole owner of any information collected on this site. We may collect usage information from site visitors at various points on our site. We will not sell, share, or rent this information to others in ways different from what is disclosed in this statement.

General Inquiries

If a user contacts us with a general inquiry, the user may need to provide personal information (for example contact details). We will use this personal information to respond to the inquiry and track further correspondence. Information is also used to compile statistics on response handling, etc. This is done in aggregate, and no individual names or other personal information are retained. Personal information collected is not used for any other purpose.

Third-party Services

We may partner with another party to provide various specific services. When the user signs up for these services, we will share names or other contact information that is necessary for the third party to provide these services.

These parties are not allowed to use any personal information collected except for the purpose of providing these services. We do not share aggregated demographic information with our partners and advertisers.

External Links

This site may contain links to other sites. Please take note that Vencore Labs is not responsible for the privacy policies or practices of such other sites. We encourage our users to be aware when they leave our site and to read the privacy statements of each and every site that collects personally identifiable information. This privacy statement applies solely to information collected by this site.

Internet Privacy Policy Changes

Vencore Labs may, from time to time, make changes to this policy. We recommend that users of this site re-visit this privacy policy on occasion to learn of new privacy practices or changes to our policy.

Questions or comments about this privacy policy may be made through info@vencorelabs.com.
